

UPDATE -- Water Main Break -- BEDFORD CONSOLIDATED
WATER DISTRICT
Tuesday, August 31, 2010

9:00am --

As of last evening the Water Department located the source of the break, and it has been repaired. Water pressure will be coming back to all residents. Residents in the Lily Pond area will experience a more gradual increase in pressure.

Residents are still advised to boil water for at least one minute until further notice. Notice will be given using an automated calling system to all residents and will be posted at BedfordNY.info.
